Fastweb's 6th Annual Student Contributor Series Focuses on Student Life and the Student Experience

Chicago, IL (September 6, 2017) – Fastweb announces its sixth annual Student Contributor series, a program where student writers provide insightful articles and share their unique student experience. Fastweb (www.fastweb.com), a member of the Monster network, is the leading website for scholarship and financial aid information.

The initial articles from the Student Contributors team focus on timely topics for all student levels that include; managing class schedules, what to know as a college freshman, setting high school goals, preparing for the SAT & ACT and more.

"Each year we look forward to the relevant insight our Student Contributors bring to their articles," said Mark Nelson, Vice President of Product Management at Fastweb. "Our focus is to provide students with important tools and information to meet their college objectives. Students can genuinely benefit from the experience of their peers when navigating the many decisions related to their education."

In June, Fastweb began conducting outreach to extend the opportunity to apply for the 2017-18 Student Contributor series to all its members. Applicants were required to provide a brief personal summary, as well as a 250-word writing sample on a topic relating to their experience with the scholarship, financial aid or admission process. The 2017-18 Student Contributor team was selected from the many talented writers who applied. Here is this year's team:

- Katalia Alexander, High School Senior, Mount Rainier High School
- Franco Camacho, College Junior, SUNY Oswego
- Emma Lynch, College Freshman, Appalachian State University
- Nicole Manges, College Senior, Huntington University
- Amber Phillips, High School Junior, Rockdale County High School
- Kaylen Phillips, High School Senior, Mill Creek High School
- Lauren Rabold, College Freshman, University of Evansville
- Cherish Recera, College Freshman, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
- Stella Santa Ana, High School Senior, Hillcrest High School
- Ryan Smith, High School Junior, Cuthbertson High School
