Important scholarships and internships for LGBTQ students highlighted in new Fastweb student resource

CHICAGO, IL June 1, 2017, Fastweb (www.fastweb.com), the leading website for scholarship and financial aid information and a member of the Monster network, supports the LGBT community during LGBT Pride Month.

June is a month of celebration for the LGBT community as its supporters hold events in June to commemorate the anniversary of the Stonewall Rebellion in New York City on June 28, 1969. Historians consider this date to be the initiation of the LGBT movement.

A collection of important scholarships, fellowships and internships for college bound and existing college students involved in the community and interested in advancing LGBT rights has been compiled in Fastweb's new resource, LGBTQ Community Scholarships & Internships. Applications for these undergraduate and graduate opportunities are being accepted now and for academic focused scholarships for students majoring psychology, public policy, fine arts and other areas. Additionally, internship opportunities are available at organizations concentrating on communications, political science, government affairs.

The Fastweb scholarship directory of LGBTQ scholarship opportunities is another strong resource students can utilize while looking for ways to pay for school.

Helpful online resources that support all students seeking opportunities to help fund their education are available online and always at no charge at Fastweb.com.
