Fastweb Utilizes Matching Technology to Provide Students Part-Time Job Opportunities

Weston, MA (October 30, 2018) – Fastweb, the leading website for scholarship and financial aid information and part of the Monster network, now provides students with part-time job opportunities through their proven matching technology.

For over 23 years, Fastweb has used its matching technology to provide students with relevant scholarship and internship opportunities to help them achieve their educational goals. Now, Fastweb is utilizing this same technology to match students to part-time job opportunities. The part-time jobs functionality is powered by Monster, a global leader in connecting people and jobs, and is refreshed daily, creating a database upwards of 9,000 opportunities on any given day. Part-time job positions are available in top industries including retail, childcare, the food industry, and many others.

“Our ability to connect students with part-time job opportunities by utilizing our existing matching technology and easy-to-use interface is another way we can help them achieve their college objectives,” said Mark Nelson, Vice President, Fastweb. “Additionally, employers are now able to showcase their opportunities to even more qualified candidates in the search to fill these vital positions”.

Employers who post part-time job opportunities through Monster will see an impressive student response, which has already shown a 33 percent apply rate since the program began in June. This is another way Monster is reaching qualified candidates and connecting them with top employers; these student candidates have many attributes that today’s employers are seeking to fill key part-time positions. Top majors of Fastweb users include: STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math), Healthcare/Nursing, Business/Marketing/Accounting, Psychology and Education. Approximately 60 percent of Fastweb students are between the ages of 18 and 25, 45 percent are high school seniors, and 37 percent are in college or graduate school. Fastweb receives an average of 2.2 million monthly visits and 1.6 million new members per year.
